Dear Andrew,

You gave me an injured bird last summer and we had discussions about out of date stock that you had; that you felt would be of use in our wildlife hospital. I hope you remember me.

I contacted you recently to ask if this was still the case and could I arrange collection from your warehouse (up north I believe).

You also gave me some out of date Oralade hydration fluid and I have found this to be extremely useful for all our wildlife. In particular the badgers, foxes and hedgehogs.

On a personal note I put this product down to saving the life of my own cat. We still give her Oralade periodically when she gets her kidney infection. I have just finished the last bottle and have tried to source further bottles of it from the Internet but all sources are telling me they are out of stock with one company saying that Oralade is now discontinued.

Please would you be so kind as to tell me where I may buy some more of this product? I am happy to pay for it even if what you have is out of date.

I look forward to hearing back from at your convenience and thank you again for your interest in the rescue centre.

Sincerely,

Mrs Regan Clark, 7 Castle Close, Camberley, Surrey, GU152DT
